

Love is effortless. Love is not just a emotion, it is who we are. Every other emotion is a form of love. Hate is distorted love jealousy is scarcity of love and joy is a feeling of being loved. Love gives a new light to life which makes everything enjoyable. Love is simply magic which is the greatest form of strength. It gives clarity in life. We can figure out what our priority is and what we want to achieve . It gives us precious memories to cherish forever.