About AI

It refers that the machine will exhibit human intelligence.

Artificial intelligence came into existence in the year 1955.

John McCarthy is regarded as the father of Artificial intelligence.

He was a Computer scientist in the United States of America.

AI aims to make the life of human beings more convenient.

There are very few chances of occurrence of error by using AI.

They work according to the commands given in form of programs.

Python programming language is widely used for AI at present.