About AI

AI stands of Artificial Intelligence it comprises of many learning concepts from Machine Learning, Deep learning, and many more it has many models and learning methods ranging from supervised learning to unsupervised learning to reinforcement learning and furthermore it is the future and it can be used essentially for anything and learning of any human behaviours.

Moving on we can teach alot of things to computers and this concepts of making computers teachable is the concept of AI and this is fundamentally same as teaching kids about anything